1. Chapter 1

Harry Potter and the test of Inheritance

AN: I have had this story in my head for a while now and I have just had the chance to start it off. I hope you like it.

Disclaimer: I don't own Harry Potter or any of the characters apart from the OC's who will make an appearance at some point.

Chapter 1

Harry had just lost against Lord Voldemort again in the graveyard which the cup had taken him to as it was changed into a portkey.

The next thing Harry knew he was in a white room with a giant throne in the centre against the back wall. In the throne sat a big, beautiful girl with white hair that could beat Luna Lovegood's and would put any man in a trance they could not escape, and Harry was no exception.

"Mr Potter this is the fourth time you have failed in the prophecy, and fallen at the hands of Tom Riddle. I thought myself and death made it very clear to you that his time was up as you reach the age of 14 at the end of the Tri-wizard tournament." As the woman knew to Harry as fate spoke a dark black figure rose next to her.

"Miss Fate is right Mr Potter, or did you forget once again?" Death asked Harry.

"Look I am only one person with a limited amount of training, so how am I supposed to get rid of Voldemort when my brother gets all the training and I get hardly anything?" Harry asked both Death and Fate.

"OK Mr Potter your point has been taken into account and we have desired to give you one last chance to get this right. But it will not be too easy. You will still have to deal with your brother. Since he died in his second year along with that Weasley girl, they will also be sent back too. But unlike you they will have no knowledge of this. You will have all the knowledge you know now and also a few more once you return, all you have to do to get these powers is go to your wizard bank once you get back and demand an inheritance test. Do you understand?" Fate asked the young boy.

"Yes..." Harry said trying to take in all the information.

"Then be on your way boy, and get me Mr Riddle's soul." Death told Harry as Harry left through the void that Death had just pushed him through.

"Think he will do it?" Fate asked Death after Harry left.

"Not a chance." Death replied but he has been wrong before.

Godric's Hollow, During the first war, Potter's safe house

"Are you certain they are here Wormtail?" Voldemort asked the Potter's secret keeper and one of his Death eaters.

"Yes my Lord, this will not fail you." Wormtail said as he disappeared as Voldemort went towards the Potter's home.

As he approached the front door he found it locked. Then he whipped out his wand and whispered a simple first year spell named 'Allo Hamora' which unlocked the door. As the front door unlocked James Potter heard it click open and got out his wand and left to the hallway to see who had entered the house. As he got to the hall he saw his worst fear. There stood Voldemort his hood up and his wand drawn.

"Well Hello Jamessss." Voldemort said emphasising the s to sound like a snake. Then next thing that happened was Voldemort flung the killing curse (Avada Kadavra) at James as he fell to the floor like a rock to a lake.

Upstairs in the nursery Lily Potter was just putting her twin down for a nap when the door was burst open and Voldemort stood in the space where the door once was.

"Take me just not my boys." Lily pleaded as she stood defensively in front of her twin sons. And as soon as the words left her mouth Voldemort sent the killing curse at her and she did the same like James had done.

Next Voldemort turned to the two boys, and thought 'Which one did the prophecy speak of?' Since Harvey Potter was born on July 31st and so was Harry he desired to go with Harvey who looked more like Lily with his fathers eyes than Harry who looked like James with his mothers eyes. As he pointed his wand and Harvey and muttered the killing curse before the spell left Voldemort's wand Harry grabbed the wand and pointed it at himself. The spell bounced off Harry and struck Voldemort in the chest destroying his body and smashing the window in the room as glass flew everywhere. Harry did not get hit by the glass but Harvey did that left a triangle scar on his forehead much like lightning bolt one on Harry's, except Harry got his from the killing curse before it rebounded on Voldemort.

Soon two people showed up and took Harry and Harvey away from Godric's Hollow.

Black Manor, 12 Grimmauld place, safe house, head quarters for the order of the phoenix

"Albus! Meniver! What happened?" Sirius Black asked as he ran over to them.

"Are worst fear has happened. Voldemort has killed Lilly and James Potter and has marks Harry as his equal. We must hide Harry and have him never find out about his fate until he becomes of age. So we must put our faith in Harvey as he is more likely the one to rid us of Voldemort once he returned. Which he will thanks to an old friend giving Tom a way to live forever." Albus said. Soon everyone was talking and came up with a plan for Harvey and Harry.

"Ok so everyone is clear on the plan. We send the brat Harry to the Dursley's and Harvey will live with the Malfoy's, correct?" Snape asked.

"That is correct Siverius." Dumbeldore told him.

"Well then I will take Harvey to Lucius, while someone takes the brat to the Dursley's." Snape said.

"Ok, Hagrid you do it and put this letter with him." Dumbeldore told the half giant.

"Yes professor." Hagrid replied as he left to take Harry to the Dursley's.

8 years later

"Up, get up, now!" Harry heard from the cupboard under the stairs which had been his room for the last 8 years. Today was his cousin's 12th birthday and they were going to the zoo.

As Harry entered the front room his aunt, Petunia Dursley, told him to go in the kitchen and not burn the food. As Harry was making breakfast his uncle, Vernon Dursley, told him to bring him his coffee as Harry he's cooking the bacon.

As the Dursley's sat to eat breakfast after Dudley, Harry's cousin, had finished opening his presents Harry suddenly felt weird as all this information started to return to his mind and he just stood there. After about five minutes of standing there Harry could smell something. He was burning his uncle's breakfast and now something painful would be given to him once his uncle found out. As Harry turned around his uncle was right behind him.

"You burnt my food boy!" Vernon shouted at Harry then grabbed him by his shirt and throw him into the hall. Then he punched in twice on in his ribs cracking two and then stoped on his left leg braking it, then finally pushing him in his cupboard and locking it before saying, " We were gonna take you with us but after what you did you will be luck to ever come out of their for a week."

Half an you later the Dursley's left for the zoo leaving Harry alone in the house locked in his cupboard. 'Right now it is time for me to get out of hear and get to Gringotts. So let's get out of hear.' He thought before he apperated out of his 'room'.

AN: Sorry it's short but this is just the introduction. I am trying to make the chapters longer, I'm just not that good at that yet but I try. If I have spelt any of the names wrong please let me know I an half asleep and will make sure I get them right next time. Please read a review as well as tell me what you think. Thanks manaphy98 over and out.

2. Chapter 2

Harry Potter and the Inheritance test chapter 2

AN: I still don't own Harry Potter, I only own the OC's and the story line.

Chapter 2: Inheritance test

Gringotts Bank, Diagon Ally, London, Wizarding World

Harry appeared in front of the wizards bank with a light pop and walked in with his hood up on his largely oversized jacket, that was just one of the many hand me downs from his cousin, in fact all of the cloths that Harry wore where hand me downs of Dudley's. Looking around Harry saw some shops he remembered from his past time hear and some new ones he had never seen before. He didn't know if he didn't pay attention to them before or if Death and Fate had done this but at this moment he didn't really care. Harry walked into the bank and up to the front desk.

As Harry walked up to the front desk je saw to stunning girls with their parents talking to a goblin tailor about some kind of investment they were support to be getting but had not received for some reason. The older girl who looked his age had bright blond hair and ice cold blue eyes but she didn't seem to notice him as she looked around the bank. The second girl who looked to be about a year younger than her sister had dark black hair and dark brown eyes that keep looking around at the goblins to see what they were doing. The tall man who seemed to be their father had short black hair with a small painted beard and was waring dress robes and his wife who was next to him, had blonde hair like her daughter and held herself high with pride that just radiated from her body.

As soon as Harry got to the front desk he cleared his voice and spoke Ina calm but demanding voice, "I require a inheritance test."

"Name?" The goblin asked him.

Harry took a piece of paper out of his pocket he had used to write his name on before he left and handed it to the goblin. On the piece of paper Harry had written 'H. J Potter (which could refer to him or his brother). The goblin looked at him curiously, then looked back at the piece of paper before turning it over and looked a bit shocked and a bit happy, which was very rare for a goblin to be.

"I shall get you house goblin at once." The goblin said before he left to get the Potter's account manager.

After about five minutes the goblin returned with another goblin who looked far too familiar to Harry, soon he remembered the goblin's name to be Griffhook as the goblin introduced him.

"Sir I am Griffhook your families account manager, please follow me." Griffhook said as he led Harry in to a small room before speaking again. "Now Mr Harvey J Potter we were not expecting you this early..." The goblin started before Harry put up his hand to stop the goblin.

"Sorry to interrupt you Griffhook, but I am not my brother. I am Harry James Potter, and I am here to take my inheritance test and claim any titles I have." Harry spoke up.

Griffhook looked surprised and then spoke up, "Forgive me Mr Potter for my mistake, now would you please cut the palm of your hand and place it over this piece of parchment and let a few drops of blood fall onto it so we can clarify who you are then find out your inheritance."

Harry did as Griffhook asked and as words started to form on the parchment Griffhook picked up the parchment and began to read before reading it to Harry.

"My my Mr Potter, you seem to be the richest wizard in all of Great Britain maybe even the world. You are in fact Harry James Potter and believed to be dead to the whole Wizarding world. Anyway since you came here before your brother you have claimed the titles Lord Potter, Gryffindor, Hufflepuff, Ravenclaw, Slytherin, Peverell and Emsw. Now this may come as a shock to you Lord Potter but this means you will have to marry seven different girls to give you a heir for each title."

"Ok well I understand why I think. Could we discuss my accounts in my vaults please?" Harry asked surprising the goblin with his manners.

"Of course Lord Potter. Now in the Potter vault you have 12,345,651 galleons, 25 sickles and 6 nuts. In Gryffindor there is 125,754,972 galleons 86 sickles and 4 nuts. Next is Hufflepuff there is 97,258,342 galleons 20 sickles and 1 nut, Ravenclaw has 107,246,279 galleons 45 sickles and 15 nuts. Slytherin has 116,527,849 galleons 6 sickles and 45 nuts. Now Peverell who has been linked to the Potter's for many years has no galleons in it but holds many books and artifacts that past families have stored in there. And finally the Emsw vault which has not been claimed since Merlin himself holds 346,143,528 galleons 97 sickles and 52 nuts. So that brings the total to 805,276,321 galleons 279 sickles and 123 nuts. This also means you are Merlin's heir and the owner of Hogwarts school of witchcraft and wizardry." Harry just stood there stunned at how much money he had as well as thinking on how easy it would be to change the wizarding world with the amount of power he had in the wizarding world. "But Lord Potter you should choose a proxy until you can claim your seats at 17. Now let's give you your rings so that you can officially claim your titles." Grifffhook spoke up while reaching into a drawer pulling out four boxes. One box contained all four of the Hogwarts houses rings, another the Potter ring, the other two held the Peverall and Eremus rings. Harry put the Hogwarts rings on his middle finger of his left hand and they all merged together to create the Hogwarts crest. Then he put the Peverall and Eremus rings on the middle finger on his right hand and they merged together till it was one ring with a Hippogriff with a M on its chest. Then finally he put the Potter ring on his ring finger and they all glowed to show they accepted Harry as the rightful heir.

After about another hour Harry found out he should never have been sent to the Dursleys', he had two sets of god parents, the Longbottoms and some one named Remus Lupin, he had a god brother named Neville and he had a few guardians to look after him which were the Longbottoms, Remus Lupin, the Bones family and the Greengrass'. He also found out that Albus Dumbledore had been stealing from him for the last eight years of his life. The goblins were now going to return that to him including interest for the eight years that it had been happening for. He also left with seven rings to give to his seven wives he had to have to carry one each family name. As well as he found out he had to pick someone (a proxy) to take his seats until he turned at least 17 and could take them himself.

As he was about to leave the bank a man with shaggy black hair that fell to his shoulders walked in with a young girl that had the same colour hair but fell to half way down her back spotted him and studied him before the man hugged him.

"Urm excuse me but who are you and why are you hugging me?" Harry asked the man.

"Harvey it's me Sirius, a friend of your parents." The man now known as Sirius said.

"Oh I understand the confusion. Sirius was it, I'm not me brother Harvey it's me Harry." Harry told Sirius.

Sirius looked at Harry in shock. "Harry? Oh I'm so happy to see you again after eight years, Remus told me about Dumbledore placing you somewhere but did not tell me so I'm so sorry I didn't come and get you after your parents were killed."

"It's fine Sirius. Would you mind introducing your daughter?" Harry asked looking at the young girl standing just behind Sirius to his left.

"Oh Harry this isn't my daughter, this is my niece. Her parents were killed in the last war so she now lives with me. She is more like me than her actual parents but is fascinated by the dark arts. This is Alexandra Black." He said while introducing his niece.

"It's nice to meet you Lord Potter, please call me Alex." Alexandra said as she was the first to notice Harry's rings.

"Please just call me Harry." Harry asked her.

Sirius then looked at Harry and said, "So you came here to claim the family titles before your brother did, very good. Since you have become the heir of house Potter I have a proposition for you Lord Potter."

Harry nodded at Sirius Black telling him to continue as he noticed the seriousness in his voice which meant it was of an important manner.

Then Sirius continued, "Would you please be my heir of the Black estate and take Alex here as your wife for the Black family to carry on my family name once I pass on?"

AN: There is chapter two. I desired to not make Sirius Harry's god father otherwise it would be weird for him to ask Harry to marry his niece. Alex's dad is Sirius' brother Regulus Black. Anyway to find out if Harry gets an eighth title and if he needs to find eight wives instead of seven stay tuned. Please read a review because it makes me update faster but I have one or to more chapters ready to post already. But for now manaphy 98 over and out.

3. Chapter 3

Harry Potter and the Inheritance Test chapter 3

AN: Here is chapter three and before we begin I would just like to tell the girls Harry will be with in this fanfic as it I a Harry multi.

Daphne Greengrass - Lady Slytherin, Astoria Greengrass - Lady Huffelpuff, Luna Lovegood - Lady Ravenclaw, Ginny Weasley - Lady Griffindor, Hermione Granger - Lady Peverall, Gabrielle Delacour - Lady Potter, Katie Bell - Lady Erems and Alexandra Black - Lady Black

All the girls will fall for Harry once they meet him because this is the wizarding world and anything can happen. Now on with this fic.

Chapter 3: Bonding part 1

Gringotts Bank, Diagon Ally, London, Wizarding World

"Are you serious, Sirius?" Harry asked the man.

"Yes I am Lord Potter, if you don't it will have to go to the Malfoy heir and since you don't know then I will just tell you, they are not one of the good type of wizard families." Sirius told Harry. "It will also give my daughter protection from the house of merlin which is the most respects house in all of the world, and attack on that house is like suicide if the leader and allied houses found out." He continued.

"Well i suppose I could if you really need me to. I already need to find seven more girls to be with me so one more can't be any worse." Harry said to Sirius after thinking about it and accepting the offer.

"Thankyou Lord Potter, let's go to my account manager get the title handed over to you and then the marriage contract draw and signed up. I hope you are ok with this Alex." Sirius told Harry then the last to his niece.

"It's just fine with me Uncle Sirius, anyone else would be better than the Malfoy boy. Anyway once we get Harry to take the nutrient potions and healing potions he should loom like a very handsome young man." Said Alex to her uncle.

"Er Alex, you are only 9 years of age. How do you speak so well and why are you ok with being tied to me for the rest of your life while you have a Lon time left to find someone else?" Harry asked the young Black.

"Well the Black house is an ancient and noble house so I had to learn how to be a proper heiress and learn how to present myself, and by being stuck with you, I consider it a bonus because you are the boy who lived and not you fake of a brother who seems to think he is. Daddy's friend Mr Lupin told us all about what Mr Dumbledore told him about your parents death. I'm sorry for your loss Harry." She said and then gave him a comforting hug.

"Oh ok." Was all Harry could say as he returned the hug awkwardly.

Half an hour later Harry was now Lord Black along with all his other titles.

Flashback

"Harry before we go to get you pointed as Lord Black, take these two potions and in one hour you will look how a normal healthy ten year old should look you look about 8 years old now." Sirius said to Harry as Harry took the potions.

"Good now lets get you pointed sa Lord Black." Sirius said as the walked into the room with Griffhook who was also the Black account manager.

Once he put the Black ring on the same finger as the Potter ring they forged together to form one ring with a black shield with a golden phoenix in the middle. And after the ring was done he took the ring for Lady Black and said ' I take thee Lady Alexandra Black to become Lady Black and place her under the protection of all my houses and anyone who tries to harm her will have to deal with me.' Then the marriage contract was signed and sealed off. Harry had is first future wife with seven more to go.

End flashback

Now that all of that was done both parties left the bank and went their separate ways.

"Ok next stop is Olivander's to get a wand." Harry said as he made his way over to the wand makers store.

Olivander's, Diagon Ally, London, Wizarding World

As Harry walked into the store he saw the two stunning girls he was in the bank before by the window while their parents were talking to an elderly man behind the counter.

Stopping his conversation with the young girls parents the old man said to Harry, "I'm terribly sorry young man but this is a wand shop and I can not serve you until you turn eleven so please leave."

"Oh I'm sorry Mr Olivander, let me introduce myself. I am Lord Eremus the heir of Merlin. Since I am Merlin's descendant I believe that qualifies me to have a wand." Harry said noticing the man behind the counter and flashing his head of house rings.

Olivander's and the two girls parent's mouths fell open seeing all the ring this young man had.

"oh I so sorry my Lord. Urm what title would you like me to use as I must my Lord." Olivander said to Harry.

"Please call me Lord Potter." Harry responded.

And then Harry started to walk around the store looking at all the wands on display as Mr Olivander went back to helping the two girls parents.

Soon the two girls parents were done and Mr Olivander said, "Here you go Lord Greengrass, enjoy your new wand."

"Thankyou Mr Olivander I will be returning when it is time for my first daughter to get her wand in a few months." Lord Greengrass said back to Olivander. Next Lord Greengrass turned to his girls and said, "Let's leave before Harvey recognises us, and causes trouble since he has been raised by the Malfoy's he must make trouble."

"Alain don't be so mean. Harvey isn't that bad." His wife Stephanie said.

"Actually he is mum he set Tori's hair on fire once." Daphne added.

"Oh my, perhaps we should go." She said as Harry started to walk closer to them and before he reached them he turned and went over to Mr Olivander to talk about a wand to get.

"That was weird. He normally makes a snide comment or tries lame pick up lines whenever he sees me or Tori." Daphne said as she watched Harry totally ignore them.

At this moment Astoria desired to speak up, "It is not Harvey."

"What do you mean princess of course it is." Alain said to his youngest daughter.

"No daddy look at his clothes and she he was walking this way he looked like your old friend Mr James with mums friend Miss Lilly's eyes and Harvey looks different." Astoria says to her father and as soon as he takes a second look at her a suddenly realised who she is and makes an angry face.

"What's the matter dear?" Stephanie asks her husband.

"Oh Dumbeldore is going to be the most hated wizard in the world. That young man right there is Harry Potter." Alain said as his wife and two daughters looked at Harry in shock.

After about fifteen minutes of testing wands Harry finally had a wand and paid for it before leaving. As he left he approached by the four people he saw in the bank.

"Hello Lord Greengrass," Harry said bowing to Alain as Alex has fought him a little about being a lord before the split paths. "it is an honour to meet you and your family. I have some information to tell you if you would allow me a little time to speak with you." He finished.

"That is fine Lord Potter, but the only place I would like us to talk would be my house. Is that a problem?" Alain asked Harry.

"I hope it won't be after our discussion with Lord Greengrass." Harry replied in a formal tone confusing all four Greengrasses'.

"Lord Potter before we head to my home to have our discussion I would like for you to meet my wife Stephanie," Alain said as Stephanie waved at Harry, "and my daughters, Daphne and Astoria." He said finishing as Daphne waves as her dad said her name and Astoria did the same.

Harry walked over to Stephanie and kissed the back of her hand and bowed saying, "It is a pleasure to meet you Lady Greengrass." He then went over to Daphne and Astoria and repeated his action making the two girls blush.

Daphne had always wanted to meet Harvey's brother but was disappointed when she asked her father after they left the Malfoy's where he was once they left and her father told her he was dead. Astoria had always liked Harvey a little thinking of how brave he was to win against the dark lord as Dumbeldore had told the wizarding world. Now she had seen Harry her impression of Harvey had completely changed and she was starting to admire Harry as Daphne was.

Greengrass Manner, Cambridge

As the five arrived at Greengrass Manner, the three girls went to the living room and Alain led Harry to his office on the second floor.

Greengrass Manner was a two storied building and had eight bedrooms all with a bathroom, on the top floor both four offices and two family rooms. On the bottom floor there was a massive kitchen a massive dining room that was really only 7 times smaller than the Great Hall at Hogwarts if Harry could remember it correctly and another two family rooms. One was used for a living room and the other was used as a room where Daphne and Astoria would play together.

"So Lord Potter what is it you would like to speak to me about?" Alain asked Harry.

"Lord Greengrass I found out today that you and your wife were put down as potential guardians for me if my parents were Voldemort which they were. Did you know this?" Harry asked him.

"Well we did talk about it and we said we wouldn't mind taking you in if anything happened to your parents but I didn't actually think it would happen." Alain said then added, "Why are you telling me this?"

"Well you see Lord Greengrass," Harry started then shifted slightly before continuing, "I was wondering if you would still consider having me as part of your family. I am only asking because I have not met any of my other potential guardians and my current place I live at is at my aunt and uncles who hate magic and treated me poorly."

"I find that hard to believe me by the way you look." Alain said.

"Lord Greengrass thus is a picture of me before I met another one of my parents friends and he helped me with potions to look how I am now." Harry said showing him a picture of how he looked before he took the potions. "And his niece also taught me how to act as a lord a bit before they had to leave." Harry added after Alain looked over the picture.

"Well Harry I can honestly say you will not be going back there ever again and you will be staying here. Now I have a question to ask you now Lord Potter." Alain told Harry slipping into a formal tone when he said 'Lord Potter'.

"Ask away Lord Greengrass." Harry said in the same formal tone Alain had used.

"I have seen the way my daughters look at you and by the look of how many titles you have I assume you need wives to carry heirs so I am offering you a contract with my two daughters. They know the reasons of this as I have told them that Harvey and/ Malfoy would try to force one on them someday so I am asking you to keep them from a miserable life. How do you feel about taking my two girls my Lord." Alain asked him with a hopeful look in his eyes.

"Lord Greengrass you are correct and if this had not happened already today I would probably flip out but since this is not the first time today I will accept. Do you have any idea on what houses they should be the heir of as I don't know then well and as their father you know best." Harry said starting to get used to the idea of having a marriage contract put together with girls for their safety along with him having to have eight to have heirs for all his titles.

"Well the way Daphne normally acts around others with an ice queen persona I would say she becomes Lady Slytherin and Astoria is always kind to everyone so with her I would say Lady Hufflepuff." Alain said

"Then it is settled that shall become Lady Slytherin and Lady Hufflepuff." Harry said and in five more minutes the marriage contract was signed and sealed.

Soon the two men joined the girls in the living room and Alain told them all of the marriage contract he had made with Harry then Harry placed the Slytherin ring on Daphne's ring finger and the Hufflepuff ring on Astoria's ring finger.

After that Harry told the Greengrass' he had a little to do I Diagon Ally and he would return later. Once Harry left Alain explained what Harry about the Greengrass' being possible guardians for Harry if his parents died, and how Harry had asked him and he accepted, so Harry will now be living with them.

*Madam Makalans, Diagon Ally, London, Wizarding World ****

As Harry landed outside Madam Makalans robe store he looked in and could see a beautiful girl who looked to be twelve and getting robes fitted for her second year at Hogwarts. Then as Harry walked in a woman said to him, "Please stand a stool over hear young man we will het you measured out for some robes just give me minute." A woman who looks like Madam Makalan said to Harry. Harry walked up to a stool next the you newly second year of Hogwarts and she said something that completely caught Harry off guard.

AN: There is chapter three and part 1 of the bonding. At the moment Harry has three of his eight. Anyway till next time, please read and review. manaphy98 over and out.

4. Chapter 4

Harry Potter and the Inheritance Test chapter 4

AN:Here is the second part to Harry's bonding. In this chapter he will bond to the remaining 5 girls he did not in the previous one.

Chapter 4: Bonding part 2

Madam Makalans, Diagon Ally, London, Wizarding World

"Hello, Harry Potter." Said this young girl who had just turned 12 years and was getting fixed for her Hogwarts robes for her house which looked to be Griffindor as they had the red Griffin mark on them.

"Hi... wait how did you know who I am?" Harry asked the young girl.

"Well before your parents realised they were marked for death their was a picture of you, tour brother Harvey and your parents. You have your mothers eyes Harry unlike your brother who has tour dads. And my family happened to walk past the room you had a meeting with one of the goblins you had as we were going off to the vaults." The young girl told Harry as he now understood.

"Oh well I guess trying to hide myself from the wizarding world didn't work out quite so well for Dumbeldore." Harry said while looking at the girl and smiling which she returned. "So now since you my name could I please know yours?" He then asked the girl.

"Sure, my name is Katie Bell." She said as she held out her Han to shake Harry's.

Harry took her hand and then instead of shaking it he pulled the back of her hand towards his lips and kissed the back of her hand while saying, "It is a pleasure to meet you heiress of the house Bell."

Katie giggled then said, "Harry you don't have to play the lord card with me. I'm a half blood."

"Oh right ok sorry, I guess I didn't know that." Harry said felling embarrassed then said in his head 'I should have remembered Katie was a Half blood like me.'

"Well how could you, we just met. Anyway I am second year in Gryffindor and I'm going to try out for keeper this year." She told Harry as Madam Makalan came over to them.

"Hello Miss Bell good to see you again. How is Richard?" Madam Makalan asked Katie.

"Oh he is fine. He still remembers you from when he was young, but at the moment he is on an investigation in Birmingham about some kind of drug house." Katie told Madam Makalan.

"Oh those muggles do have a weird way of finding investigation. I will never get used to that." Madam Makalan said as she waved a wand that started to take Harry's measures and then left with Madam Makalan to make up his robes.

"Wait Katie, why did she charm a tape measure to do my measures but not yours?" Harry asked as Madam Makalan walked away without a second look back.

"Because this is my second year and she already has my robes from last year and she just needs to make extensions. And the extensions need to be more specific, the cloth has to be the same length and weight. All the other stuff so it all looks natural." Katie said before adding, "Besides she is a Half blood and she chooses to use magical and muggle methods in her store."

"OK that makes sense." Harry said as he got off the stool and walked over to Madam Makalan who had just beckoned him over and Katie followed him closely behind as the woman who was taken her measures had left a little before.

"So sir would you like crests on your robes well I would like a set with all Hogwarts crests on them separate in a reserved position and when I find out my house you can sell the ones I don't need if that will be ok. I would also like one with all my house rings crests on them if you would please." Harry told her while flashing his rings.

"OK sir if you would just please place your house rings on here if you would so we can get a marking and then transfer it to your robes and they will be ready in 5 minutes." She told Harry as she took a tray of mold out of a drawer and had Harry mark all of his rings.

Ten minutes later Harry and Katie walked out of the robes shop together (with their robes), chatting like best friends. But the talking soon stopped as in a flash of bright light there were three figures in front of them wearing wight masks.

"Mr Potter you must come with us immediacy and if you object we are ordered to take you by force." One of the white masked figures told him.

'There is no way these are death eaters or auros but then what and/or who are they?' Harry asked himself. "Who are you?" Harry then asked them out loud.

"We are part of you protection team, Mr Potter placed to protect you by Headmaster of Albus Dumbledore and are here to take you back to your aunt and uncle's house before the blood wards fail." Said another white masked figure.

"Well I am terabley sorry but I don't think I will be going to that place ever again." Harry said having the fresh memory of Lord Greengrass giving him the offer to live at Greengrasses Mannor.

"Then we will have to use force." The third white mask figure as they took out there wands and locked w store dors and now the street was clear apart from Harry, Katie and the three masked figures.

"Do you happen to know any offensive spells?" Harry asked Katie.

"I can perform a pretty bad _Ricta Shemptra_!" She told Harry.

"Ok well that should be good enough, just fire on will. You take out the small one, I'll deal with the big two." Harry said and drew his wand.

Harry rounded on the big two as Katie went for the small one of the white masked figures who happend to be Dumbledore's puppets and trying to send Harry back to the Dursley's. Spells we fried left, right and centre. A few spells heard were 'Stuperfy_, _Expeliamus_ and _Reducto'_. Soon there were two thuds heard from near by and as the small white faced mask had got a luck stun on Katie they looked to see the other two followers of Dumbeldore knocked out and Harry's eyes glowing green. And then he shot a cutting curse at Harry and Harry stepped to the side to dodge the curse but it caught the side of his arm and left a long gash across it, next the masked figure turned to Katie and sent a 'Sectumsempra'_ at her because she managed to blast him back a few feet before while her powerful '_Ricta_ _Shemptra'_ hit him. As the spell flew towards Katie, Harry looked up from the gash on his arm and saw the spell heading for her. He leapt to his feet and jumped in front of the spell which hit him right in the the spell hit Harry he cast a '_Stuperfy'_ and knocked out the small and final member for the white masks.

After 3 minutes the stunner wore off on Harry and Katie saw this and was shocked. Soon after her mother came out of Gringotts Bank holding a large box.

"Mummy!" Katie shouted to her mother as her mum ran up to her as she saw a body laying their on the floor.

"Katie, what happened?" Katie's mum said as she turned into nurse mode (Katie's mum is a witch and a healer from America who moved to England before she had Katie and is now a translator for the wizarding world).

"We (me and Harry) were attacked by these men and Harry managed to take them down but as he did he got hit by a spell I have never heard of before and ended up like this." Katie said in one breath while looking over Harry as her mum performed diagnostic spells over Harry before starting to heal him.

After five more minutes of healing Harry five aurors appeared to the group of three in Diagon Alley.

"Hello there, I am head auror A. Moody. Can either of you tell me what happened here?" Asked one of the aurors.

"My daughter friend were attacked by these three." Answered Mrs Bell while looking over Harry more making sure there was no more damage.

"Auror Tonks, Dawlish and Shacklebolt, remove their masks if you would please." Auror Moody said to his colleagues.

"This one is Mundungus Fletcher, sir." Said auror Tonks.

"This one is Severus Snape, sir." Said Shacklebolt.

"And this is Dedalus Diggle, Alistair." Dawlish said to Moody as he removed the last mask.

"Auror Lupin, place the cuffs on each of them and then activate the charms." Said Moody to the last auror. He then turned to Katie and her mother, "We will deal with these three, I think it is time for the boy to wake up now. Well done Miss you did a good job in healing him." Moody then left after he spoke the last part to Mrs Bell.

Soon after the aurors left Harry was awoken and looked around. As he took in his surroundings he turned and saw Katie.

"Katie are you ok?" Harry asked her looking at her for injuries.

"No Harry I'm fine but you took a curse to your chest and my mum helped you. Soon after five aurors arrived and took the three people away." Katie told Harry.

"And the aurors they didn't...didn't see me did they?" Harry asked her.

"No Harry they didn't." Katie told him while giving him a hug.

As she let go Harry asked her, "What was that for?"

"You jumped in front of that curse for you didn't I would have died, but you jumped in front of it. I now owe you my life." Katie said to Harry.

"No Katie you don't it was really nothing..." Harry began before Katie grabbed his collar and kissed him. "Katie what did you just do?" Harry asked in alarm.

"I just finalised a bond between us Harry." Katie told him.

"Wait did you just finalise a life debt?" Harry asked her.

"Yeah, why?" Katie asked Harry in confusion.

"Katie you just gave your life to tis young man with out his condolence." Her mother told her speaking up.

"Mum I know you told me this all before Harry is the one for me he has 8 house rings." Katie told her mother.

"Katie dear still you should have asked Harry before you did it." Her mother told her.

"I'm sorry Harry I just knew all the ways a life debt can be paid and I thought this was the beat option." Katie told him looking down.

"It's fine Katie I understand and I am happy you chose me. I was just a bit surprised." Harry told her as he placed the Erems ring on her finger.

"Harry this is the ring Merlin's wife wore." Katie told Harry as she looked at the ring in amazement.

"Yeah I know you are now Lady Erems." Harry told her and then she gave him another kiss.

"Thanks Katie now I have to go back home see you soon." Harry said as he apperated back to Greengrass Mannor.

Greengrass Mannor

"Hey everyone Harry is back." Astoria said as she ran over to Harry as he popped into the living room.

"Welcome back Harry." Daphne said as she came in and gave Harry a warm smile.

"Come on Daphne, don't do that around Harry." Tori told her sister.

"Don't worry Tori it is fine. She is just not used to me yet and anyway I would be bad for her image if she is a Slytherin and I am a Gryffindor." Harry told Astoria as he smiled at Daphne letting her know if it was alright that she hadn't warmed up to him yet.

"Welcome back Lord Potter, my we speak to Lord Slytherin please?" Lord Greengrass asked Harry in a formal tone as his wife and him entered the front room.

"Of course Lord Greengrass what is it you would like to talk to me about?" Harry asked I'm the same tone.

"We would like to invite you to attend a gathering we have this weekend." Lord Greengrass asked Harry.

"I accept but I will not look like this. I have a few aging potions on me to make me look 20 years older so the guests will not find put who I am." Harry told Lord and Lady Greengrass.

"That is very wise Lord Slytherin." Lord Greengrass said.

"It has been a long and eventful day how about we head off to bed?" Stephanie said as she pulled her husband away from the living room up the stairs.

"Good idea mum Tori looks very tired and so am I." Daphne said as the rest followed her upstairs and went to bed.

Three days later Harry had got to know Daphne and Astoria better and the night of the Greengrass' party has begun. Harry was standing by the door looking 20 years older than he did a few minutes ago in his Lord Slytherin robes and his Slytherin ring showing.

"Ah Lord Slytherin over hear." Lord Greengrass said as he called over to Harry and he walked over. "These are the Delacour's and Mr Lovegood." He said introducing them as Harry shook their hands. " I will let you talk and and get to know each other." Then Lord Greengrass left to mingle.

After an hour of having a pleasant talk with the Delacour's and Mr Lovegood the Delacour's called it as time to leave because they had a two young daughters at home and left.

After the Delacour's left Harry turned to Mr Lovegood and desire that he could trust this man with his secret.

"Mr Lovegood you look like a honest man so I am going to let you in on a little secret. As i am Lord Slytherin I an also Lord Ravenclaw and I need a Ravenclaw heir, my actual name is Harry Potter and I am 10 years old." Harry told him and then Mr Lovegood looked at him and smiled.

After an awkward silence fell between then Mr Lovegood spoke up, " My Lord take my Luna to be Lady Ravenclaw, it will be so good for her. She is a seer you know. Oh can I please put this information in my popular magazine The Quibbler?" He asked sounding almost as dizzy as Luna did if Harry could remember. After thinking about having Luna as Lady Ravenclaw he thought it might be a good thing. She was beautiful in his past lifes and very intelligent as well as one of Harry's best friends so why not.

"Ok Mr Lovegood I will accept your proposal as to putting this in you magazine. You may mention Lord Slytherin being at the Greengrass' party but nothing more, OK?" Harry asked him.

"Of course my Lord, I just happen to have the marriage contract with me right heard." He said as he fished a roll of parchment out of his pocket and laid it on a table before handing Harry a blood quill as he signed the paper making it official and then Luna came up to her father.

"Daddy this is such a great house the Greengrass sisters are so nice. Oh daddy I see you met him as I told you. Did he sign it." Luna asked her father.

"Yes he did pumpkin. It is all done." Mr Lovegood said as he hugged his daughter then Luna let go and hugged Harry.

"Thankyou Lord Slyhterin we must take our leave now as we must be heading home." Mr Lovegood said as he shook Harry's hand and before they left Harry placed the Lady Ravenclaw ring on Luna's hand and kissed her on the cheek. Soon the Lovegood's were gone.

"Ah Lord Slytherin ot is great to finally meet you." Harry heard from behind him and as he turned around he found out it was Lucius Malfoy and two other families. Lucius got on one knee and kissed Harry's hand as a way to show how much Malfoy house respected Lord Slytherin. Harry desired to have some fun with him.

"Rise Lord Malfoy I can see you and your wife have some friends care to introduce me to them or are they just your little pets?" Harry said with his first joke.

"Forgive me on my rudeness my Lord, this is Lord Parkinson and this is Lord Nott." Lucius said as both bowed to Harry.

Next Lord Parkinson asked Harry, "Lord Slytherin I have a daughter and I was just wondering if you would take her to become Lady Slytherin I have the contract right here." Lord Parkinson said as he pointed over to her daughter as he held the marriage contract.

"I'm so sorry but I already have a Lady Slytherin, Mr Greengrass caught Daphne and I believe two boys are harassing her and her sister." Harry said as he spotted Draco Malfoy and Harvey Potter harassing Daphne and Astoria (Lady Slytherin and Lady Hufflepuff).

"I'm so sorry my Lord those are my boys. I will stop this at once." Lucius said as he turned I'm the direction of Harvey and Draco. "Harvey! Draco! Stop harassing Lord Slytherin's bride and her sister who is under my protection." He held at the boys who looked scared they they were just trying to flirt with a Lords wife to be and her sister who was under his protection. They both said sorry to Harry before sticking to their fathers side.

As the night went on it seemed as Harry could not get rid of Lucius and at about 1 am Lord Greengrass called the party to end. As everyone left they all shook The Greengrass' hand and Harry before Lucius turned with his wife and hugged her to ask Harry something.

"Er Lord Slytherin, would you like to stay at Malfoy Manor tonight?" Narsissa asked him.

"Oh I'm sorry Lady Malfoy but i an staying at Greengrass Manor." Harry said then saw a saddened look I her eyes. Using ligamence which he learned from fate before he came back he searched her mind for why she was sad and he found out. Now it was time to have some real fun with Lucius. "Lord Malfoy it seems as you have a few Mistresses at home waiting for you to come home." Harry said as Lucius' face went white and Narsissa looked shocked. "Your wife new about these women and would like out of this marriage you have with her. She is also not the biological mother to your son Draco either is she?" Harry asked Lucius as his face grew whiter. Then Harry added, "Now as Lord Slytherin I order you to release Lady Malfoy from the marriage she has with you or I will declare a blood fude with the Malfoy's."

"Right away my Lord." Lucius said not wanting to loose a big and powerful ally he could have if he played his cards right.

"Now Lady Black go to Remus Lupin and tell him how you feel. Be with him and never go back." Harry said as he leaned over to Narsissa and gave her a piece of paper that had the official document of her and Lucius' marriage contract broken and her being reinstated to the Black family.

"I will Lord Slytherin." Narsissa said before she left.

"Maybe we should go to bed before we have to leave for France tomorrow,after all the trip is very tiring." Lady Greengrass said reminding everyone of the trip they had planned for tomorrow.

"You guys go ahead I have something to do before I go to bed but I wont be long." Harry said before he was gone and the rest if the Greengrass' went to bed.

AN: Here is chapter fore. Now the rest of the bonding will be in the next chapter, chapter five. Anyway till then, manaphy98 over and out.
